

A2 GERMAN FLUENCY SELF-EVALUATION CHECKLIST

How to Use This Checklist

This checklist is designed to help you track your progress and determine if you are ready to pass an A2-level German proficiency exam. The A2 level builds on your A1 foundation and represents the ability to handle simple, everyday communication in German with more independence and confidence.

While Using This Checklist

☐

Review each item carefully.

☐

Check off the skills and knowledge you have mastered.

☐

Focus your study efforts on the items you haven't yet mastered.

☐

Be honest! This is for your personal growth.

CEFR Descriptions for A2

Level:

Listening

☐

I can understand phrases and the highest frequency vocabulary related to areas of most immediate personal relevance (e.g., very basic personal and family information, shopping, local geography, employment). I can catch the main point in short, clear, simple messages and announcements.

Reading

☐

I can read very short, simple texts. I can find specific, predictable information in simple everyday material such as advertisements, prospectuses, menus, and timetables, and I can understand short simple personal letters.

Spoken Interaction

☐

I can communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring a simple and direct exchange of information on familiar topics and activities. I can handle very short social exchanges, even though I can't usually understand enough to keep the conversation going myself.

Spoken Production

☐

I can use a series of phrases and sentences to describe in simple terms my family and other people, living conditions, my educational background, and my present or most recent job.

Writing

☐

I can write short, simple notes and messages relating to matters in areas of immediate needs. I can write a very simple personal letter, for example, thanking someone for something.

GENERAL ABILITIES

☐

Communicate in simple and routine tasks requiring direct information exchange.

☐

Handle more practical situations (e.g., travel, shopping for specific items).

☐

Understand and use a vocabulary of approximately 1,000 words.

☐

Manage short social interactions on familiar topics.

☐

Read simple texts like menus, schedules, short letters, and advertisements.

☐

Listen to short, clear, simple messages and announcements.

☐

Write short notes, messages, and simple personal letters.

☐

Describe your family, living conditions, job, or studies in basic terms.
